

FUNDING BILL DEFEATED

Shouts of Jubilation Marked the Event in the House.

BY AN ENORMOUS MAJORITY

Mr. Baileys Motion to Recommit the Bill to the Committee on Pacific Railroads Was Adopted 177 to 108--The Result Was a Surprise Even to Opponents of the Measure--Some Lively Speeches Made

The Pacific Railroad funding bill was re-committed to the Committee on Pacific Railroads late yesterday afternoon by a vote of 177 to 108, showing an unexpectedly large majority against the measure.

Although the drift has been against the bill from the inception of the debate, its advocates were not without hope even yesterday. The extent of their defeat was a great surprise to both sides.

The debate was of a brisk and lively character. Only three of the eighteen sections of the bill had been read when the hour for taking the vote arrived. But one substantial amendment (to prevent the payment of dividends on the stock until the government's debt should have been fully discharged) was adopted.

Mr. Baileys substitute to foreclose the government's mortgage in case of default was out by a parliamentary maneuver, so that when the voting began in the House he moved to recommit the bill--a motion equivalent to its direct defeat.

A proposition submitted as an amendment to compromise the debt, aggregating $130,000,000 for $75,000,000 in bonds and then, as stated above, the bill was sent to its doom by an overwhelming majority.

Opponents of the measure signalled their victory with shouts of jubilation, and for several minutes the House was in an uproar.

The House, after passing the bill to revive the rank of lieutenant-general, proceeded in committee of the whole under the special order to read the consideration of the Pacific bill.

An attempt was made to secure an agreement to continue general debate until 2 o'clock, but it failed as also did an effort to extend debate on the bill until Monday or Tuesday. The leaders on both sides agreed that it was necessary to the intelligent understanding of the bill, but Mr. Lane, of Illinois, objected, and Mr. Lockwood, of New York, demanded the regular order.

Mr. Morgan then proceeded, devoting most of his time to the discussion of the alleged frauds by which, he claimed, Huntington, Crocker, Stanford, and Hopkins had secured $25,000,000 over to themselves, as stockholders, $62,000,000 of profits.

WORLD LEAD EVERY DOLLAR.

In reply to a question from Mr. Black, of Ga., Mr. Bailey said that there was danger that the government would lose every dollar if some adjustment was not made. If this happened Congress would be responsible.

Mr. Saranoff, of Virginia, called attention to the fact that the stock of the Union Pacific had risen $1.30 a share since this debate began, on the prospect of the passage of the bill.

Mr. Hudson, of Kansas, said if the bill passed this Congress would go down to history as a "boondoggle" Congress, influenced by corporations and under the domination of the money kings.

As the hour for taking the vote approached members crowded forward for a last word, a minute or so before the roll was recognized, Messrs. Blair, Smith, and others.

MEMBERS UP THE ADJUTANT.

Mr. Bailey, in charge of the bill, occupied the last five minutes in summing up the arguments in favor of the measure. Mr. Baileys sought to have his substitute considered, pending when the House rose under an agreement with Mr. Bailey, but Mr. Hepburn raised the point of order and it was out.

The Committee of the Whole at 4:30 under the special order rose with the amendments of Mr. McIlwain and Mr. Maguire pending. The vote was taken first on that of Mr. Maguire to extend the operation of the bill to the Central Pacific road. It was lost on a rising vote--91 to 126. That of Mr. McIlwain to prevent the payment of dividends to stockholders as long as the government's debt remained undischarged, was carried.

Mr. Baileys then moved a resolution to recommit the bill. The resolution recited the fact that opportunity had not been given to amend three of the eighteen sections.

Mr. Hepburn raised a point of order against the resolution to recommit.

The Speaker overruled the point of order. Mr. Turner, of Georgia, then moved as an amendment to Mr. Baileys motion a resolution to recommit with instructions to report back a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to accept $75,000,000 if paid within six months in full payment of the debt due the government from the Union and Central Pacific roads.

ENORMOUS MAJORITY GIVEN.

Mr. Turner's amendment was lost, 109-142. The vote of Mr. Baileys motion to recommit was taken, and on the rising vote the enormous majority, 177-108, in favor of it, aroused shouts from the opponents of the bill. Mr. Bailey demanded the yeas and nays, but withdrew it.

The opponents of the measure, however, would not permit the opportunity to go by without a record-making vote. Mr. Pence and half a dozen others renewed the demand and the roll was called, resulting in the recommitment of the bill--177-108.

OVERDOSE OF LAUDANUM.

It is said to have caused Mrs. Samuel B. Tinkers death.

GREENHUT'S LITTLE DEAL.

Whisky Trust's Former President Bought Heavily on Tuesday.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.--Proceedings in the whisky trust litigation in the United States court opened with a promise of a sharp battle to-day. Judge Grosscup took the initiative. He evidently intended to find what foundation there was for rumors that the receivers had not been acting in the interest of the property.

President Greenhut was called to the stand as soon as court opened. Judge Grosscup said he intended to ask a few questions before arguments for the removal of the receivers began.

"Did you deal in any whisky trust stock Monday or Tuesday?" he asked the witness. "Yes," replied Mr. Greenhut. "Tuesday I bought between 3,000 and 4,000 shares on the New York stock market. I did not sell and have the stock bought there."

Receiver Lawrence, Mr. Greenhut's associate, said he neither bought nor sold any stock.

Attorney Levi Mayer then began his argument on the motion to oust the receivers. In court were present large numbers of persons interested in the proceedings. Among the directors in attendance were Messrs. Greenhut, Beggs, Holbert, Greene, and Hennessy. Nelson Morris was present and represented by counsel.

RED HORROR IN ARMENIA

Impartial Investigation Made of the Atrocities and Butchery.

BLAME LIES ON BOTH SIDES

Light Thrown Upon the Spasmodical Wickedness of the Turks and the Ingenious Devising of the Revolutionary Conspirators--The Innocent Suffer Most--Deserve the Wrath of the Entire Civilized World.

Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.

London, Feb. 2.--A letter has been received here from the special correspondent of the Associated Press, who was sent to Armenia from London to investigate the reported Armenian atrocities, and who is at present domiciled in Armenia. For reasons which will be readily understood, the name of this correspondent is withheld, but he is a newspaper man, well known in America, and he was instructed to make an impartial investigation of the stories told of Turkish cruelty.

The Associated Press correspondent spent a week or more in Constantinople, before starting for Armenia, during which time he investigated the reports current there and then continued his journey. His first letter has just reached here after having been posted by a trusted messenger at Tiflis, Russia.

STORIES FROM MANY LIPS.

It contains the first authentic news received from Armenia direct and says:

"Whatever secrets may be held the snow on the Armenian mountains it seems beyond dispute from what I have heard from many lips that the published stories of ferocious butchery and red horror in the Sassanian villages have at least a reasonable foundation of truth, and that any change, authorized by further investigation, will deal more with numbers than with the degree of horror."

But from what the correspondent of the Associated Press says in the latter part of his letter there are two sides to the Armenian story, as he remarks:

THE INNOCENT SUFFER MOST.

"But no matter what light we throw upon the spasmodical wickedness of the Turk or upon the ingenious devising of the revolutionary conspirators we find that it is still the innocent who suffer most."

"The Turk declares that the Armenians have inflicted shocking outrages upon Turkish men and women, and from what is already known of the conspiracy methods it is quite likely that the assertion is true."

"For instance, it is reported that a queue of leading Turks to commit outrages that will bring down upon them the wrath of a civilized world. Armenians have thrust gun cartridges into the bodies of living Turkish men and women and have exploded them, and that in the case of one woman a hole was made just below the bone of the chest, for the insertion of gunpowder, which was then ignited as a sort of a bomb. The Turk who would not retaliate in kind, is yet to be heard of."

It is known that the Armenians, in Constantinople, and possibly they have been transmitted in reports to the various governments."

COMMOTION AMONG OFFICERS.

They Have Begun to Scramble for the Plums Congress Picked Down.

The passage by Congress yesterday of the bill to make Major Gen. Schofield lieutenant general of the Army has already caused much commotion among officers of the Army.

The explanation is that by the promotion of Gen. Schofield there will result two vacancies in the rank of lieutenant general, one in the regular army and the other a brigadier general's place. It is conceded, however, that the first will be filled by the promotion of Brig. Gen. John M. Schofield, and the second will be filled by the promotion of Brig. Gen. John M. Schofield.

The ranking officers of the three arms of the service are Col. William H. Shafter, of the Fifth Infantry, now at Manila; Col. John H. M. Schofield, Fourth Artillery, at Fort Niagara, N. Y.; and Col. James F. Wade, Fifth Cavalry, at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

There are many other applicants in the field, and the number doubtless would include most of the colonels in the Army had not Secretary Cannon taken so firm a stand against the promotion of brigadier generals.

Small Riot on Canal Street.

A delegation of Greek boys, consisting of Peter Characeros, John Karangan, and Constantinos Liviras, called at Tax Bureau office last night to complain that they were having a harmless snowball battle near the Belt Line car station, corner of Third and Canal streets.

Lectured on the Life of Buddha.

Prof. Thomas Rhy David, an eminent savant of the University College, London, delivered yesterday afternoon, at the Columbian University, his lecture on "The Life of the Buddha." His audience was a large and distinguished one.

Billy Did the Business.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 2.--Dan Layton was knocked out by Billy McCarthy in the third round.

OLNEY USED AN EPITHET

He Called Mr. Maxwell an "Impertinent Scoundrel."

LETTERS NOT FOR PUBLICATION

The Attorney General Gave Way to His Choler, It is Said, and Wrote an Autograph Letter Denouncing His Subordinate--Some Inside Facts Given Out by the Friends of the ex-Solicitor General.

A very lively scandal, which may cause some mortification in the neighborhood of the Department of Justice, is on the eve of developing out of the resignation of Solicitor General Maxwell. An effort was made by Attorney General Olney and Mr. Maxwell to keep the facts from becoming public property, but as is usually the case intimate friends of both gentlemen have gradually divulged the information.

It has been given out by the Olney faction that Mr. Maxwell's resignation was, to state it briefly, brought about by his interference with Assistant Attorney General Whitney in his conduct of the income tax cases before the Supreme Court.

A very different light is now thrown upon the situation from Mr. Maxwell's side and in it Mr. Olney is made to appear as duffed up with his own importance and afflicted with that disease of the head common among men who have never held but one public office.

As was the case with the other side, so does Mr. Maxwell refuse to be interviewed, "but it is learned from the sources of the trouble resulting in Mr. Maxwell's resignation dates back some little time."

MR. OLNEY ALWAYS ABBENT.

It seems that the Attorney General has not made his appearance in the Supreme Court since he delivered the eulogy on the late Justice Blatchford. Without anything having been said on the subject, Mr. Maxwell has always attended to all law matters in the department and been constantly in attendance on the Supreme Court.

When, therefore, Mr. Olney saw Edward of New York, wrote to Mr. Maxwell urging that the income tax cases be advanced without delay. Mr. Maxwell went to court and acted in the matter, as has been already printed.

No sooner, however, had he finished making the formal request for the immediate advancement of the cases than Assistant Attorney General Whitney, who is important to understand at this juncture, is the brother-in-law of Mr. Olney, arose and in no very courteous manner remarked to Mr. Maxwell that he (Whitney) was there to represent the Attorney General, and that therefore the motion must be made by him.

Mr. Maxwell refused to do so, and the income tax cases were advanced without delay. Mr. Maxwell refused to do so, and the income tax cases were advanced without delay.

MR. OLNEY USED AN EPITHET.

In the letter written by Attorney General Olney to Mr. Maxwell, upon the receipt of which Mr. Maxwell's resignation was sent, Mr. Olney calls it, it is said, the Solicitor General "an impertinent scoundrel" and proceeds at length to give his reasons for so doing.

This reason is, Mr. Olney says, because the Solicitor General has been guilty of interfering in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Further, Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

Mr. Olney decried that Mr. Maxwell had made false statements in regard to certain Congressional matters, and that he had been guilty of interference in matters which do not belong to his jurisdiction, and that as a subordinate of the Attorney General the Solicitor General was deserving of the severest censure, not alone in this matter, but for his actions upon several previous occasions.

INSANE MOTHER'S AWFUL ACT.

She Feared Punishment for Sins and Tried to Kill Her Four Children.

NAPA, Cal., Feb. 2.--An awful tragedy occurred here early this morning in the home of Peter Metelich. Mrs. Metelich, while insane, undertook to kill her four children and succeeding in doing them all serious injury.

Her mania was a religious one and she had the delusion that she had greatly sinned against God and as punishment her children were to be killed. She had taken an opium habit, and she had threatened to kill the children to avoid this. Her husband went away to his work this morning, leaving all at home in apparent quiet, but within a half hour his wife had taken an axe and with it fearfully cut and beat every one of the children.

The children are Ethel, aged eight years; Andrew, six years; Fannie, three years; and a baby, eighteen months old. They were all struck in the head, inflicting ugly gashes and bruises. It is feared that the baby will die, as there are symptoms of convulsion of the brain. The other children will probably recover.

She would probably have killed them had not the neighbors heard them screaming and came to the rescue. The woman was caught in her frenzy and taken to the county jail and later in the day committed to the asylum.

FATAL BITES OF A MAD DOG.

Two Men Have Died and Miss Otis Is Seeking Treatment.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 2.--The departure of Miss Margaret Otis for the New York Pasteur Institute for treatment last night has brought to light the story of the death of two men and the possible sickness of the young lady from the bite of a mad dog, hydrophobia having developed.

Miss Otis left for New York on the advice of her physicians, who feel confident that it is a case of hydrophobia. Miss Otis has been employed at the Great Northern general offices in this city, and during the latter part of November, while in one of the corridors of the big building of that railroad, saw a pet dog, and, together with others who were near, petted it.

The auditor and his clerk of the Great Northern, Frank O. Poshaw, were there and were snatched by the dog, but in no case was there a sign of blood. Mr. Gibbs, the auditor, died about a month ago, the announcement of his death being that it was due to spinal meningitis.

One week and Mr. Poshaw died with much the same symptoms. Now Miss Otis has been attacked, and her symptoms are the same as those of the two men who died, and it is believed that all three were true cases of hydrophobia.

It is not positively known that the two men died of hydrophobia, but in view of the decision of the physicians in the case of Miss Otis and the knowledge of the similarity of the symptoms, and the further fact that all were bitten by the same dog, it is now claimed that both men died from hydrophobia.

WAR WILL BE DECLARED.

This is Believed to Be the Course Mexico Will Decide to Pursue.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Laredo, Feb. 2.--President Diaz will give out on Monday, February 4, what is expected to be Mexico's final ultimatum in the dispute with Guatemala. If current rumors and state of public feeling are to be believed it will be a declaration of war.

It is stated to-night upon what is believed to be good authority, that the Mexican cabinet will not deviate from its original policy. A long session of the cabinet was held at which most of the diplomatic corps were present, and another session is being held to-night in private.

The sentiment of the people seems to be strongly against any yielding by Mexico from the original contention.

It is rumored that Guatemala will not recede from its demand. The sentiment among the American colony here seems to be unanimously in favor of President Diaz's course.

Guatemala has now 10,700 troops on the frontier and 5,000 more started from Guatemala City last night. A report is current here, but of course not substantiated, that the British have been sent to look the Central American Federation £1,000,000.

MILLIONAIRE AND MILLIONUM.

C. P. Huntington Reputed to Believe that Heaven's Near at Hand.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.--It has been discovered that C. P. Huntington, the Southern Pacific magnate, has religious beliefs. The information became known through Rev. M. V. Donaldson, superintendent of the St. Paul's Mission Church of this city.

The doctrine taught at St. Paul's consists mainly in the belief that the millennium is near at hand. No definite date is agreed upon for its arrival, but sometime in the year 1895 seems to be the favorite.

According to Rev. Donaldson Mr. Huntington subscribes to the belief, and for the past ten years has been giving sums ranging from $300 to $700 for the benefit of the church.

He has written many letters warmly recommending the work of the church, which the pastors are well pleased to receive.

ENDEAVORERS WILL CELEBRATE

The Fourteenth Anniversary of the Great Body to Be Observed to-day.

The biggest Christian society in the world was four years old yesterday, and more than 2,000,000 Christian Endeavorers will today celebrate the birth of the first society in this city and throughout the country.

This event occurred in the little Congregational church at Williston, Me., of which Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, the present pastor, was the pastor.

Mr. Maxwell's attention was called during the winter of 1880 and many young people had become Christians.

The problem presented itself of keeping these young converts actively engaged in Christian work, so that the spiritual life might be properly developed. Thus it happened that the first society of Christian Endeavor was formed.

There will be a big mass-meeting this afternoon at the Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church, and in the evening there will be special anniversary services in each of the sixty-seven societies in the District.

Watch Stolen from a Bureau Drawer.

Seth Coleman, residing at No. 919 Florida avenue northwest, last night reported to police Station No. 8 that thieves had taken from the bureau drawer in his bedroom a silver watch, valued at $10.

Had His Fingers Mashed Off.

James Saccy, an employe of Adams Express Company in this city, had two of his fingers mashed off and another broken by a large safe filled with silver falling upon his head yesterday.

Death of an Ex-Congressman.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Feb. 2.--Ex-Congressman M. D. Stivers died in his chair at the Times office this afternoon.

ACADEMY

PRICES: 25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00
Wed. and Sat. "Popa," 25 and 50 Reserved.

ONE MORE GREAT WEEK BEGINNING TO-MORROW, MONDAY, FEB. 4.

POPULAR MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

Triumphant Return of the

TROCADERO VAUDEVILLES

Headed by the Peerless

Sandow.

The world knows not his equal. All the great features retained.

NEW SPECIALTIES. FEATS.

By the Incomparable Company.

THE LUCIFERS, TOM BROWNE, SCOTTIE, MARQUERITE, BILLY VAN, CUNHAM, AMANN, THE JORDAN FAMILY, AND SANDOW.

Direction of F. Ziegfeld, Jr.

NEXT WEEK, JOHN L. STODDARD.

BOMBS FOUND BY POLICE

Four Anarchists and Their Factory Discovered in Rome.

RAVOGLIA MADE CONFESSION

He Threw the Dynamite Missiles the Day That Legn Attempted the Life of Premier Crispi.

The Conspirators Plotted Against the Heads of Governments--They Had Relations with Assassins Cesario Santos.

Rome, Feb. 2.--The police to-day discovered a bomb factory at the lodgings of two anarchists, Ravoqlia and Capelli, who, with two others, were arrested.

Three loaded bombs were found at the lodgings of the anarchists. Ravoqlia confessed that he threw the bombs the day that Legn attempted the life of Signor Crispi, the Italian premier.

The attempt of Paolo Lega to kill Premier Crispi was made on June 18 last. Lega was immediately arrested after firing the shot at the premier.

LEGAT AGAINST EUROPEAN RULERS.

At the time of his arrest it was claimed that Lega and a number of other anarchists had plotted against the heads of governments in different European countries.

It was learned that he had relations with Cesario Santos, the assassin of M. Carnot, as he was at anarchist meetings at Versailles a few weeks prior to the assassination of M. Carnot, though Lega claimed he knew nothing of Santos.

TWO STATE OFFICERS SHORT.

One Enriched Himself $50,454 and the Other Took $5,000.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 2.--The report of the joint committee to examine the books of the State auditor and treasurer was made to-day. The report shows a shortage of $56,454.70 in the treasury office.

NEBRASKA, Neb., Feb. 2.--A special to the Bee from Lincoln, Neb., says: Frank Hilton, Nebraska State oil inspector, who retired from office to-day, is $5,000 short. This money consists of surplus over his salary, fees, etc. His bond can now be recovered. No steps have been taken in the matter. He declares he will settle up next week.

Ten Years for Fraudulent Voting.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 2.--The first conviction of unlawful acts in the recent election came to-day when Edward Miller, who had been on trial in the criminal court for the past two days on a charge of fraudulent voting, was found guilty and given ten years in the penitentiary.

A motion for a new trial was filed by his attorneys.

Suicide of a Millionaire.

ASHVILLE, N. C., Feb. 2.--Samuel A. Millock, a prominent citizen of Louisville, Ky., threw himself under a train here this afternoon and was instantly killed. He was here for the winter. He was a millionaire and was a director of the Bank of Kentucky of Louisville. Cause not explained.

LANSBURG & BRO'S

ASTOUNDING SOAP SALE.

THE eighth wonder of the world, now on exhibition in one of our show windows, an exact reproduction of the Great U. S. Administration Building of the Columbian Exhibition, built out of 28,179 cakes of Fine Medicated Toilet Castile Soap, making the largest and finest display of Toilet Soap ever attempted in the world, and is the greatest soap bargain ever offered in America.

Everybody welcome to all they want of it at this price. This Soap has been made especially for us by the Cincinnati Soap Co., whose soaps have been the standard for over a quarter of a century, and to introduce this soap, they permit us to sell it at 2 cakes for 5 cents, which gives us opportunity to save money.

This is an excellent and Pure Toilet Soap. Really worth 10c per cake.

2 CAKES FOR 5c.

LANSBURG & BRO

420, 422, 424 426 7th St.

MEM